

Are you interested in

International Political Economy

Sustainable Development

Clean Energy Economy

International Economics

The Political Economy Program invites you to learn more about careers in these fields.

Tuesday, January 23, 3:30-4:30pm
JRHH 205, snacks provided

A conversation with special guest Kristy Mayer:

Current position: Analytics manager at Opwer, a data analytics firm

Previous work experience:

- Energy Economist, South Asia, Energy (Sustainable Development) Office, The World Bank
- International Economist, Office of International Trade Policy, US Department of the Treasury
- Financial Analyst / Assistant Chief of Staff for Timothy Geithner, Federal Reserve Bank of New York

Education

- MPA in Economics and Public Policy, Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University (2011)
- BA in Economic Theory, New York University (2006)

Followed by a brief presentation by Rocky Campbell, Director of the Career Center, about related internships and job opportunities.

Questions? Contact ElizabethBennett@lclark.edu (Director of Political Economy)