Parents and Family Preview
August 24, 2022

On the first day of New Student Orientation, parents, family, and friends are welcome to take campus tours, eat in the dining hall, assist their student with move-in, and participate in special programming just for them.

The cost of attending is $22 per person, which helps defray the cost of the Wednesday meals as well as incidental program expenses. Children 5 and under are not required to register.

If you have not yet registered, find more information and register here.

You do not need to register your Lewis & Clark student.
