Palatine Piano Trio

With their spirited approach and harmonious connection, the Palatine Piano Trio shares memorable, heartfelt performances of engaging music, both new and old. Featuring three of Portland's most respected musicians, this is Oregon's preeminent piano trio. The ensemble delivers musical excellence combined with an effortless chemistry developed over decades of dear friendship and collaboration. Taking their name from the Palatine Hill Road address of Lewis & Clark College, where all three members are or have been on faculty, the ensemble has brought expressive and impactful concerts throughout the region. Celebrated for their purposeful programming and exhilarating delivery, the trio works closely with the region's foremost composers, bringing their chamber music to worldwide audiences through an exciting, multi-year recording initiative, Northwest Legacies. With multiple albums in the works, their forthcoming first release showcases premiere recordings of music by Tomáš Svoboda. Learn more at palatinepianotrio.com.
