Ray Warren Symposium

Ray Warren Symposium Community Planning Meetings

We are so excited to collaborate with you all to organize and celebrate the 20th Annual Ray Warren Symposium on Race and Ethnic Studies. The symposium will be held on November 8–10, 2023 and we want to extend an invitation to you to our community planning meetings.

There is no prior experience necessary when attending our planning meetings, so everyone is encouraged to attend, and snacks will be provided! We appreciate any and all ideas for this year's symposium, Future Forward. We will be holding planning meetings on the following Wednesdays: 9/13, 9/27, 10/11, 10/25, 11/1 in Miller 414 from 4:30-5:30 pm.

Race Monologues Weekly Session

Started in 2002 between affiliated student groups to cover experiences of race and ethnicity at Lewis and Clark, Race Monologues continues to be a space for students of color to safely engage with these topics as well as present them in a form that is comfortable and unapologetic at the end of the Ray Warren Symposium. If community building, critical writing, or art/poetry interest you, please come by Thursdays at 7pm in Fowler!

Frequent attendance at Race Monologues meetings are not a requirement to join at

Community Dialogue: Can a Font Be Racist?

Wednesday, September 20
5pm
IME Suite

Can a font be racist? Join us on Wednesday September 20th in the IME suite at 5pm to learn about the history of ethnic typefaces, specifically the "chop suey" font (used in the late 19th c.). We will learn about how the font is used to perpetuate Asian stereotypes and otherness and open up the space for discussion. Food will be provided and no prior knowledge is needed to attend!

"Never to Swerve": Family and the Underground Railroad

Tuesday, September 19, 3:30-5:00
Diane Gregg Pavilion
Speaker: Valerie Craigwell White, LC
Ombudsperson

Come hear about the role family played in the informal 19th-century network that developed into a system of people who assisted freedom seekers headed to new lives away from their enslavement. Valerie will explore the importance of what have come to be known as the Underground Railroad stations, the locations--often private homes--in which self-liberated people were sheltered on their journeys. She'll include attention to her ancestors to reflect on how they were involved in supporting her great great grandfather's role helping folks get from one place to another in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, New York, and Delaware.

Awakened Awareness Info Session

Interested in learning or deepening your mindfulness/meditation practice and getting paid for it? Spiritual Life is facilitating an 8 week wellness workshop called Awakened Awareness, a program developed by Dr. Lisa Miller, a neuroscientist out of Teachers College, Columbia University. Dr. Miller's research showed her students' rates of depression, anxiety, and post-traumatic stress decreased after the program. Come check it out this Thursday, 4:15-4:45pm in Gregg Pavilion. Questions? Contact Hilary, hmhiman@lclark.edu.

Possible Buddhist Group Forming

A possible student organization is forming and we want to hear from you! This would be a non-sectarian, inclusive group recognizing the diversity within Buddhism, and open to visits to various temples and gathering on campus.

Please reach out to Hilary (hmhiman@lclark.edu) if interested.

LC Group Nap!

Most Fridays, 12-5pm
Agnes Flanagan Chapel

The Center for Spiritual Life is hosting LC Group Nap! This activity is Inspired by the "Nap Bishop" Tricia Hersey and her book Rest Is Resistance - a call to action and manifesto centered in Black liberation for those who are sleep deprived, searching for justice, and longing to be liberated from the oppressive grip of Grind Culture. Come into the Flanagan sanctuary and rest a while. Open to all. Pillows, clean pillowcases, and blankets provided, along with inspiring quotes for your week!

LC's BIPOC Legal Mentorship & Community Program's Annual Reception

Thursday, September 28
6:00-8:00pm

The BIPOC legal mentorship and community program was created to provide support, networking opportunities, and community to BIPOC-identified students at Lewis & Clark Law School. Learn more about this program during the 2nd annual reception.

Please RSVP ASAP or before September 20, 2023, as we have capped the guest count for catering purposes. We ask that if you RSVP, please make sure you attend the program since other people may not be able to attend due to RSVP cut offs.

The program is open to all students (law school and undergraduate), alums, firms, nonprofits, and other allies for BIPOC students and/or attorneys.
