Navratri Celebration 2023

Friday, October 20

7:00-9:00pm

Gregg Pavilion

Navratri, in Hinduism, is a major festival held in honor of the divine feminine. It lasts for 9 nights, usually held in September-October. It ends on the 10th night of Dusshera. It is typically celebrated by fasting during the day and gathering to dance at night, with rituals, pujas, fairs, etc.

This year, we'd like to bring a little bit of the Navratri enthusiasm to the LC campus, where we'd gather for a dance workshop/celebration and food, with very simple steps and lots of community bonding. No experience needed!!

Ray Warren Symposium Call For Art

Calling all students, staff and community members for art! The Ray Warren Symposium on Race and Ethnic Studies is accepting art submissions for this year's art show. Any and all materials/media are welcome, from photography to fabric and more! All art examining issues of race and ethnicity will be considered for the exhibit, but the RWS curators especially welcome art engaging with this year's theme of "Future Forward."

Submission deadline: Monday, October 16 at 5 pm

Race Monologues Weekly Session

Started in 2002 between affiliated student groups to cover experiences of race and ethnicity at Lewis and Clark, Race Monologues continues to be a space for students of color to safely engage with these topics as well as present them in a form that is comfortable and unapologetic at the end of the Ray Warren Symposium. If community building, critical writing, or art/poetry interest you, please come by

The Ray Warren Symposium on Race &
Ethnic Studies Presents:

Race Monologues

A space where students of color can:

- Become part of a community that focuses on their voices and experiences
- Work collaboratively in a safe space & reflect on how race plays a role in their life
- Share stories through song, poetry spoken word, etc.

Flower Bouquet Making

Wednesday, October 25
6:00-7:00pm
Smith Hall

Every year the Student Alumni Association (SAA) plans events to foster connections between current and graduated Lewis & Clark students. We are writing to invite you to a bouquet-making event sponsored by SAA, where current students will have the valuable opportunity to talk with you and other alumni and ask questions about post-graduate life.

We will have desserts and hot drinks catered by Casa de Mama and fresh flowers to make bouquet together, chat, snack. If you're interested in attending please RSVP. We'd love to see you there!

BANNED: A Teach-In About the Attack on Ethnic Studies and Gender Studies

Thursday, October 26
5:00-6:00pm
Stamm

In 2022, the Republican Governor of Virginia established a hotline for parents to report the teaching of critical race theory in the classroom. A Florida bill prohibits teachers from “encouraging any conversation about sex and sexuality.” All around the nation, Ethnic Studies and Gender Studies are under attack!

Please join faculty in Ethnic Studies and Gender Studies for an urgent conversation about the implications of the current “culture wars” for our educational institutions and for democracy itself, and how we can use Ethnic and Gender Studies to understand our contemporary moment.

Come Celebrate Dia de los Muertos with us!

Wednesday, November 1
7:00-9:00pm
IME Suite (3rd Floor Fowler)

Gente Latina Unida, Native Student Union, and Spanish Club will be hosting an event to celebrate Dia de los Muertos! We will have sugar cookie decorating, an informative presentation, and snacks. We will also be building an altar with photos of loved ones, flowers, and food.

Please fill out the RSVP to let us know you'll be attending, if you plan to bring a photo of your loved one, and if you have a song to request!
