

NEED A SOAN FACULTY ADVISOR?

Students preparing to declare as a SOAN major during the SP24 semester can reach out to any of the following faculty members and request them as a faculty advisor (until the faculty have reached their max capacity of advisees):

KIM CAMERON-DOMINGUEZ (CAMERONDOMINGUEZ@LCLARK.EDU)

Kim is an anthropologist who enjoys the balance between empirical research and the role that theory plays in making sense of what we observe. Broadly, she focuses on subject formation (gendered, racialized, classed, etc.) under diverse capitalist logics. Kim has conducted fieldwork in the Caribbean, Latin America and the U.S. Some of her SOAN course titles include the (254) Social Life of Money/Exchange and (303) Language, Culture and Society and (393) Affect Theory and Feminist Inquiry. She also teaches courses that are cross-listed in the Political Economy and Gender Studies minors.

JENNIFER HUBBERT (HUBBERT@LCLARK.EDU)

Jennifer is an anthropologist whose research has focused predominantly on questions of state/society relations, public culture, soft power, and nationalism in China. Her current research considers liberal gun owners in the United States. She teaches classes on power and resistance, media, ethnography and theory, policy, Pacific Rim cities, introduction to cultural anthropology, and qualitative research methods. Off campus she enjoys reading, hiking, playing the piano, and running with her dog, Indie.

*PLEASE NOTE: Faculty that are not on this list are NOT able to accept additional advisees at this time.
